Salem Improvement Co.

THE BIG BRIDGE—Contractor Mc-Coy today completed the work on the big Willamette bridge, and it is again safe to cross with any kind of loaded vehicles. The entire structure, except the east approach, was plank with three inch plank on the wagon side.
This required 48,000 feet of plank on the west approach, the contract price of which was $6.90 per M, and 46,000 feet on the spans, at $10.00 per M, the price for tightening and adjusting was $74.00 and repairing the broken spans on the east side, $25.00, making a total cost for the improvement $1024.20. It is now ready for acceptance by the county courts. The bridge still needs painting to put it in the best possible shape for wear and tear, and this will no doubt be at no distant date. The re-covering was a most tedious piece of work, as the paving teams were constantly staying program.

"WHEAT VS. BRAN"—A local paper discussing the relative price of wheat and bran asks why wheat is at 18 cents a bushel and bran sells at $18 a ton.
The manager of one of the mills was seen today and said: "Bran is $15 per ton, not $18. Why can't the fellow tell the truth? He asks 'why is this?' Did he ever stop to think why there is such a demand for the Oregonian, while his own paper goes begging?
Does not supply and demand regulate the price? Bran is worth $15 per ton because there is a demand for it at that figure."

SCHOOLS OPEN—In all the departments of the public schools the work of the year opened today in good shape.
At the East school about 500 were received. At the Park school 351 were present. The other schools had not reported this afternoon, but a full showing of attendance will be made tomorrow. Supt. Anderson says the 1st calendar is that there is an increased showing of school population.

CHRISTIAN WORK—A very large and attentive audience was in attendance at the Christian church last night to hear Elder Smith. The subject was "Which way, or the two roads." The sermon was a very able one. Revival services tonight at 7:30. Subject, "After De th What?" A cordial invitation extended to everybody.

FISHING INTERESTS—U. S. Fish Commissioner McDonald arrived Saturday and has come to inspect the site of the proposed fish ladder at the falls of the Willamette. He says unless the river can be cleared the hatchery at Clackamas will be abolished. He thinks fishing should be prohibited after Aug. 10th.

ANNUAL MEETING—The ladies Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. will hold their annual meeting in the parlors on Tuesday, Oct. 3d, at 3 o'clock p. m.
This is the time for the election of officers for the ensuing year, and every member is requested to be present.

WHY NOT?—The grand jury has been investigating into charges against Chief of Police Hunt, of Portland. It is said gamblers and prostitutes have been paying for police protection. If those unfortunate people are not entitled to police protection who is?

RUSH OF CHILDREN—This morning the public schools of Salem opened for the year. Hundreds upon hundreds of children marched up with new books under their arm ready for business.
Dearborn furnishes all school books at the lowest prices.

SKILLED ARTIST—Miss Brown's selections were exceptionally fine. Her rendition of Jean Ingelow's "Echo and the Ferry," was marked by great delicacy and skill. Boston Herald, Miss Mrs. N. Brown will read in Salem Oct.
11th.

LITTLE LOCALS.

Ward Butler of Monmouth will practice dentistry at Monmouth. Misses Nellie Edes and Genevieve Hughes, two of Salem's most accomplished young ladies, have returned home after a week of enjoyment in Albany, the guests of Misses Flora and Vesta Mason. Judge Barnett will open court at Salem next Monday. L. E. Pratt, keeper of probate records in the county clerk's office is home from The Dalles, where he was a witness in a land case.
Mr. and Mrs. Somer Craig a son was born Sept. 26. Married at Salem Sept. 30 Miss Miranda Smith of Marion county, to A. L. Seitz, of Benton county, Judge Batchelor officiating.
A babe was born to Mrs. Howard at the poor farm last week. Rev. Schultes preached for the first time to the South Salem people yesterday occupied acceptably. Rev. Grannis has occupied the First M. E. pulpit several times with good satisfaction and the Methodists are happy all around. A copy of Senator John Mitchell's great silver speech is at hand and is a very able effort. Barley is nearly in full supply for brewing, but for feed there is some demand at 60 cts. Three drunks responded to roll call with Recorder Edes this morning and received fines accordingly. Papers are filed in a suit for money in the circuit court of A. Bush vs. C. N. and J. A. Tanner.

OREGON PACIFIC RATE CASE

Showing Up the New Commissioner Freight Schedule.

The receiver and officials of the Oregon Pacific went before the Oregon railroad commission at their rooms in the staff house today at 2 p. m. There were also delegations of business men from Salem, and other valley cities in attendance.

The struggle before the commission is over the new rates of freight promulgated soon after the effort of the Oregon Pacific to bring San Francisco freight into Oregon by water via Yaquina Bay.
Then the rates on the Southern Pacific all over the valley were advanced 40 to 60 per cent.

Mr. Gest the attorney for the Oregon Pacific filed a petition setting forth the specific objections to the new tariff, and showing discriminations against towns and against certain classes of freight and asking that the commission fix days for hearing the objections of shippers at cities along the line of the Oregon and Southern Pacific railways. The commission has taken the matter under advisement.

Several members of the commission express an inclination to correct whatever wrong or injustice they have done in allowing the Southern Pacific its new rates. It is probably too late to regain the confidence of the shippers and the public, but it is not too late to undo a great injustice toward the Oregon Pacific and take off a tax levied upon the whole valley which is entirely unwarranted.

In Plain English!

Unquestionably considered of incalculable consequence in correcting all constitutional contaminations, is Dr.
Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.
Can conscientiously commend it to careful consideration, confident of its competency in all controllable chronic complaints.
The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the result of much research and wide-experience, by a practical physician of world-wide repute; its formula embraces the most potent restoratives of the whole vegetable kingdom. It is especially recommended for all blood disorders—dyspepsia, liver and kidney complaints, scrofula, salt rheum, catarrh and consumption—in its early stages—insuring relief and cure in all cases!

IS HE FREDERICKSON?

A Man in Custody at Salem Believed to be the Slayer of Bruce.

Saturday evening Wm. Morgan, alias Rodd, A. Hoffman was arrested at Woodburn by Chief of Police Minto, and brought to this city on a charge of larceny by one James Morrissey, a Winlock, Wn., farmer. Morgan denies this and says he bought the goods.
He had a hearing before Recorder Edes this morning, but asks a trial and the preliminary examination is set for 10 a.
m. Tuesday.

The arrested man is suspected by the officers of being the man named Freder-ickson who murdered the Southern Pacific brakeman, Bruce, in the Siskiyou mountains some time ago for a reward of $5,000 is offered jointly by the railroad company and Wells, Fargo & Co.

He is a medium sized man, has a short, red beard which he did not have during his acquaintance with Morrissey who believed him to be Frederickson.
He is a bright fellow, being what might be termed a dangerous character. As soon as the party arrived Hoffman was examined very closely. All his clothing was removed and the following marks, tattooed in the skin were noted, some of which correspond with the description of the murderer of Bruce.

On his left arm were a coat of arms, a milk maid, light-house, a sailor, a bracelet and a shield. On the right arm was a faith, hope and charity sign, a Christ on the cross, the goddess of liberty, a bracelet and a star on the back of the hand.

Laughter.

Laughter has often dissipated disease and preserved life by a sudden effort of nature. We are told that the great Erasmus laughed so heartily at a satirical remark that he broke a tumor and recovered his health. In a singular treatise on "Laughter" Joubert gives two similar instances.
A patient being very low, the physician, who had ordered a dose of rhubarb, countermanded the medicine, which was left on the table.

A monkey in the room jumping up discovered the goblet, and having tasted made a terrible grimace.
Again putting only his tongue to it, he perceived some sweetness of the dissolved manna, while the rhubarb had sunk to the bottom. Thus emboldened, he swallowed the whole, but found it such a nauseous potion that after many strange and fantastic grimaces he ground his teeth in agony, and in a violent fury threw the goblet on the floor. The whole affair was so ludicrous that the sick man burst into repeated peals of laughter, and the recovery of cheerfulness led to health.—New York Ledger.

Authors of Plays.

An author speaking on the compensations of playwrights said the other day: "I cannot encourage any one to go into the business of writing plays. No one can conceive of the trouble we have in getting a play produced. It is almost an impossibility to get one read and accepted. You have wondered perhaps why certain plays that seem to be drawing crowded houses are suddenly taken off. The cause is very simple. Managers cannot afford to pay authors the royalties they demand. For one or two years possibly a good play is a financial success to the manager, but after that he begins to lose money on it. The author refuses to reduce his terms, and the play is taken off. You will ask why author and manager do not compromise. That is just what we all want to know. It ought to be done, but the fact remains that they do not."—New York Tribune.
